On 12 January 1954, the barracks installation in Zaschendorf near Meissen was occupied to capacity by about 800 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets with artillery and, a few, signal insignia.

telephone masts were stored in the north section of the installation, which also included a temporary filling station. 2 special trailers for timber and 20 canvas-covered rocket launchers under lean-to roofs in the north section of the installation. About 15 troops wearing red-bordered black epaulets with artillery insignia engaged in fatigue duty and cleaning of vehicles. Truck was seen at the filling station.
